

Title:

Learn to Audit Yourself: a Workshop

Presenter Names:

Evan Gwilliam, DC MBA QCC CPC CCPC CPMA CPCO AAPC Fellow
Chris Anderson, DC MCS-P CIC CCSP

Total Hours:

4

Course Topic:

Compliance, documentation

Course Description:

Inadequate documentation is the leading cause for audits and negative outcomes when it comes to payer reviews. But it doesn't have to be that way. Drs. Evan Gwilliam and Chris Anderson will show you how they audit records and create notes that can satisfy the stingiest of third-parties. You will follow along as these certified compliance experts help you to develop bulletproof clinical documentation, achieve increased practice protection, minimize claim rejection, and maximize reimbursement. With this dynamic duo, this is a class you will not want to miss!

3 objectives:

- Identify how payers define medical necessity
- Avoid common documentation mistakes
- Create a system for auditing yourself

Hour-by-hour outline:

- Hour 1: Formulate a clear way to identify medical necessity
- Hour 2: Learn the rationale payers use to pick doctors to audit
- Hour 3: Look at examples of what not to do
- Hour 4: Craft a plan for conducting your own audit